

Coaching, Mentoring and Personal Support with Mike Fleetham

Coaching empowers you to become more effective in your life, work, learning and leadership. With your coach you explore challenges, successes, shocks, strengths, issues and opportunities, formulating actions and goals for your professional and personal growth along the way. It is fully confidential, non-judgemental and helps you to enrich your professional impact whilst safeguarding wellbeing and emotional health. Mike offers executive coaching to individuals who have strategic and organisational responsibility and personal coaching to address wider topics outside of your workplace including support in times of shock and crisis.

Approach

Mike is a highly experienced coach whose approach is integrative. He is not restricted to any particular style or method, but will draw from a wide range of techniques to find the most appropriate ones for you. After an initial discussion around expectations, practicalities and commitment, Mike will work with you over a number of sessions within a safe, confidential and trusting environment to help you explore and enhance your personal and professional effectiveness. He provides a safe, non-judgemental space where you can be yourself, take stock, offload it all and then move forward. Mike can work with you face to face, by phone or online using all popular platforms.

Impact

Working with Mike has allowed me to manage my workload and maintain a strategic outlook on school improvement.

He has supported me to stay focused, positive and helped me greatly to maintain momentum in a full-on term.

- Joe Croft, Headteacher, Ravenstone Primary, Wandsworth.

Mike's coaching has empowered me to address some very challenging issues whilst securing large international contracts. It has given me the space and time to reflect on my skills and leadership.

- Caroline Kennard, International Business Development Director, Encyclopaedia Britannica

Mike is an experienced, highly skilled executive coach. He has an ability to listen beyond the words and ask questions below the surface. He has enabled me to address some very challenging professional issues and left me feeling more confident in my skills and abilities.

- Jon LeFevre, Headteacher, Pilgrims Cross CE Primary School, Hampshire

Costs

Mike's charges vary with your location and the nature your coaching. Sessions can be booked individually or in blocks. An initial free taster session is usually available. Please enquire.

Mike Fleetham is an ILM-qualified Level 7 executive coach with over 20 years coaching experience in education and business. He is also a learning designer, trainer, accredited workplace mediator and author of twelve books. He designed and runs the award-winning website www.thinkingclassroom.co.uk. Mike supports many schools and businesses to become more effective through enriched teaching, training, learning and leadership. Contact Mike for further information about executive and personal coaching.

Tel: 01962 810554 Mob: 07983 404086

mike@thinkingclassroom.co.uk

www.thinkingclassroom.co.uk